Teach Me Your Ways

Teach me your way of looking at people:
as you glanced at Peter after his denial,
as you penetrated the heart of the rich young man
and the hearts of your disciples.

I would like to meet you as you really are,
since your image changes those with whom you come into contact.

Remember John the Baptist's first meeting with you?
And the centurion's feeling of unworthiness?
And the amazement of all those who saw miracles
and other wonders?

How you impressed your disciples,
the rabble in the Garden of Olives, Pilate and his wife
and the centurion at the foot of the cross. . . .

I would like to hear and be impressed
by your manner of speaking, listening, for example, to your discourse in the synagogue in Capharnaum
or the Sermon on the Mount where your audience felt you
"taught as one who has authority."•

THE BELLS OF MONTREAL!

The tolling of church bells throughout the city May 17 at 8:45 a.m. will signal that the commemorative Mass for Montreal's 375th is about to begin.

Starting at Saint Joseph's Oratory of Mount Royal, a city-wide chiming of church bells will kick off Ville-Marie's anniversary day. The parishes of the archdiocese are invited to ring their bells for ten minutes, inspiring one and all to reflect and be filled with joy, to pay tribute to the people who founded Ville-Marie and celebrate all the individuals and groups that bring life to our city today.

This strong and vibrant gesture will call Montrealers to the solemn commemorative Mass for the city's 375th anniversary, at 9 a.m. at Notre-Dame Basilica, presided by the Archbishop, Most Reverend Christian Lépine, in the presence of several bishops, members of religious communities, priests and representatives of various religious groups.

The City of Montreal took part in preparing for the celebration, in collaboration with the Fabrique Notre-Dame and La Société historique de Montréal. The Prime Minister of Canada, Justin Trudeau, the Premier of Quebec, Philippe Couillard, and the Mayor of Montreal, Denis Coderre, will participate in the event, as well as several other dignitaries.
