Reflection:

Our culture seems to claim that those who want to save their lives can do so, mostly by possessing more things and living in ever greater comfort. Jesus pulls no punches, he challenges us to be ready to lose our lives to be able to save them. I ask myself what this means in my life, here and now, whether I feel called to let go of something precious to me to be able to live more fully.

If we are to be followers of Jesus, we need to let him lead, accepting that he will not lead us away from suffering, pain or difficulty. Instead of seeking our own benefit and gain, we allow every experience – even in moments of distress – to draw us into closer relationship with Jesus who invites us to lay our burdens on his shoulders.

One of the ideas in the gospel is that we take up the cross of doing what is right and being willing to bear it.

Prayer: Lord, I love to see you in beautiful churches, with music and warm light. Let me recognize you too in pain, loss and insecurity. I pray that I may let go and grow in trust of God's love for me. Amen.
