The Parable of the Wedding Banquet

Reflection

- We are all invited to God's banquet. However, some do not accept the invitation. Some attack even the messengers that bring the invitation. Let us pray for all God's messengers, whatever their denomination.
- As Jesus says at the end of this story, "Many are called, but few are chosen." Many were called and invited to attend the banquet. But more than that was expected of them. They had to answer the call by saying a total "yes" to Jesus. We are all called to live out in our lives and in our relationships, what we claim to believe in.
- The king was not to be stopped: he sent his servants to the crossroads and they gathered 'all they could find, good and bad alike'. The hall was full. God's invitation to partake in his great banquet is not restricted to the Jews, his kingdom is now open to all, without any distinction, even to those who seem unworthy. I stand and wonder at God's goodness and mercy towards all. I ask to be like the Father in his mercy and generosity.

Prayer:

God, you are always looking out for us and inviting us to fill the place that is set precisely for us. Let me pray and work for the good of others so that there may be no gaps at your wedding banquet, and that I too may be there. Amen.

DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE: 2020 FALL CAMPAIGN

The new fall campaign for Development and Peace, Recovering Together addresses the global crisis exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. If there is one thing that the pandemic has revealed, it is the extent to which we are all interconnected. Our global family is all the more fragile now and marginalized groups in the Global South, such as refugees, women and Indigenous Peoples are disproportionately suffering the worst impacts.
